Full job description

Your new company

My Client, a Leading Financial Services Company is seeking strong Senior Business Analysts to join them on a large program of work. They have 3 different streams which include a new Initiative by the Government which looks at Cyclones/Flood Events in Australia, Regulatory Projects and a New Payments Project.

Your new role

- Responsible for capturing requirements in collaboration with business stakeholders
- Perform analysis (scenario, policy, customer, data, gap, change, etc) in order to articulate business need and solution requirements.
- Produce As Is and To Be Process Models
- Develop process models, data models, business rules, workflows, reporting and any other required outputs
- Works with the Product Owner/Project Manager to understand, elicit, analyse, document and communicate business requirements and articulate product vision with a strong focus on value delivery
- Expert in translating end user / customer insights into requirements/user stories with acceptance criteria, which can easily be understood.
- Facilitates and participates in workshops
- Analyse the impact of proposed solutions holistically in order to input into Change Business Impact Assessments

What you'll need to succeed
